RESEARCH
The University of Minnesota’s Twin Cities campus is the 9th most active public research university in the U.S. with $921 million in annual research spending.

Driving Tomorrow, the Strategic Plan for the Twin Cities campus, is a focused framework for accelerating advancement of excellence in research, teaching, and outreach. The strategic vision is:

_to be preeminent in solving the grand challenges of a diverse and changing world._

The plan focuses on five Grand Challenges research areas where the University is especially positioned for great impact:

- Assuring Clean Water and Sustainable Ecosystems
- Fostering Just and Equitable Communities
- Advancing Health Through Tailored Solutions
- Enhancing Individual and Community Capacity for a Changing World
- Feeding the World Sustainably

A HISTORY OF DISCOVERIES
University researchers have been responsible for some of the world’s most innovative and life-changing discoveries:

- First successful open-heart surgery and first pancreas and bone marrow transplants in the U.S.
- Discovery of non-invasive method that enables thoughts to control robotic devices
- Invention of the “black box” flight recorder, cardiac pacemaker, and GORE-TEX®
- Discovery of Ziagen, one of the most effective drugs to combat HIV/AIDS
- Development of cold-hardy apple varieties, including Honeycrisp, Zestar!, and SweeTango

LEADERSHIP TRANSITION
Joan T. A. Gabel became the 17th president of the University of Minnesota on July 1, 2019. She leads the University’s mission by honoring its legacy as a place of discovery and opportunity, while emphasizing solutions inspired by Minnesotans that serve the state and change the world.

INTERNATIONAL OFFICE

The Global Programs and Strategy Alliance (GPS Alliance) is the central international office for the University of Minnesota system. The GPS Alliance works closely with campuses, colleges, units, faculty, staff, students, and the community to comprehensively internationalize the University.

INTERNATIONAL COLLABORATION

The University of Minnesota highly values institutional collaboration with universities abroad. Our partnerships include faculty, students, and staff, as well as research and traditional reciprocal relationships. We encourage partnership development at the collegiate and department levels, where there is the most stake in success and sustainability. Contact the GPS Alliance (global@umn.edu) to discuss options for exchange and partnership.

The University’s GO Minnesota program offers semester and summer study options for international undergraduate non-degree students, without the need for a traditional institutional exchange agreement. Learn more at gominnesota.umn.edu.

GLOBAL COMPETENCE FOR ALL

The Internationalizing the Curriculum and Campus initiative includes all learning experiences through which students, faculty, and staff gain global and intercultural competencies. The University seeks to develop faculty and staff capacity to enrich curricula and develop pedagogy that focuses on global learning outcomes. Whether the learning happens on campus or through study abroad, the goal is to ensure that all students have access to global learning experiences.

Globally competent faculty, staff, and students will demonstrate the skills, knowledge, and perspectives necessary to understand the world and work effectively to improve it.

LEARNING ABROAD

The University of Minnesota is a nationally recognized leader in learning abroad. More than 30% of students have an experience abroad before they graduate. The Twin Cities campus is among the top U.S. research institutions with more than 3,000 students going abroad on credit-bearing programs.

Top Destinations for Study Abroad (2018)
