

Honored International Academician

Nomination Form

The University of Minnesota has substantial and critical relationships with faculty from institutions all over the globe. These partners are crucial to the University's global mission and enhance the University's ability to deliver exemplary education, research, and outreach to students here and abroad. The University, through the Global Programs and Strategy Alliance, wishes to recognize these international faculty partners for their ongoing contributions by awarding them the honorary title of Distinguished International Academician. This award is meant to recognize faculty from institutions outside the U.S. who contribute to the University's international education and research mission.
